Dedicated to the DEDICATED . . .

All teachers are dedicated and hard working; the nature of the profession demands it. It is impossible to conduct an effective class without hours of outside preparation. However, there are always those who are even more dedicated and hard working, who put in more hours than others and take a greater interest in their students and work. It is these teachers who are fondly remembered long after graduation.

Unfortunately, it is not possible to dedicate the yearbook to all of these outstanding teachers even though we would like to. We are faced with the task of choosing the most outstanding among a group of top notch people.

After much discussion we feel that we have arrived at the best possible choice this year. For her hard work and dedication to her students, we are pleased to dedicate the 1970 Miahi to Mrs. Karen Collins.

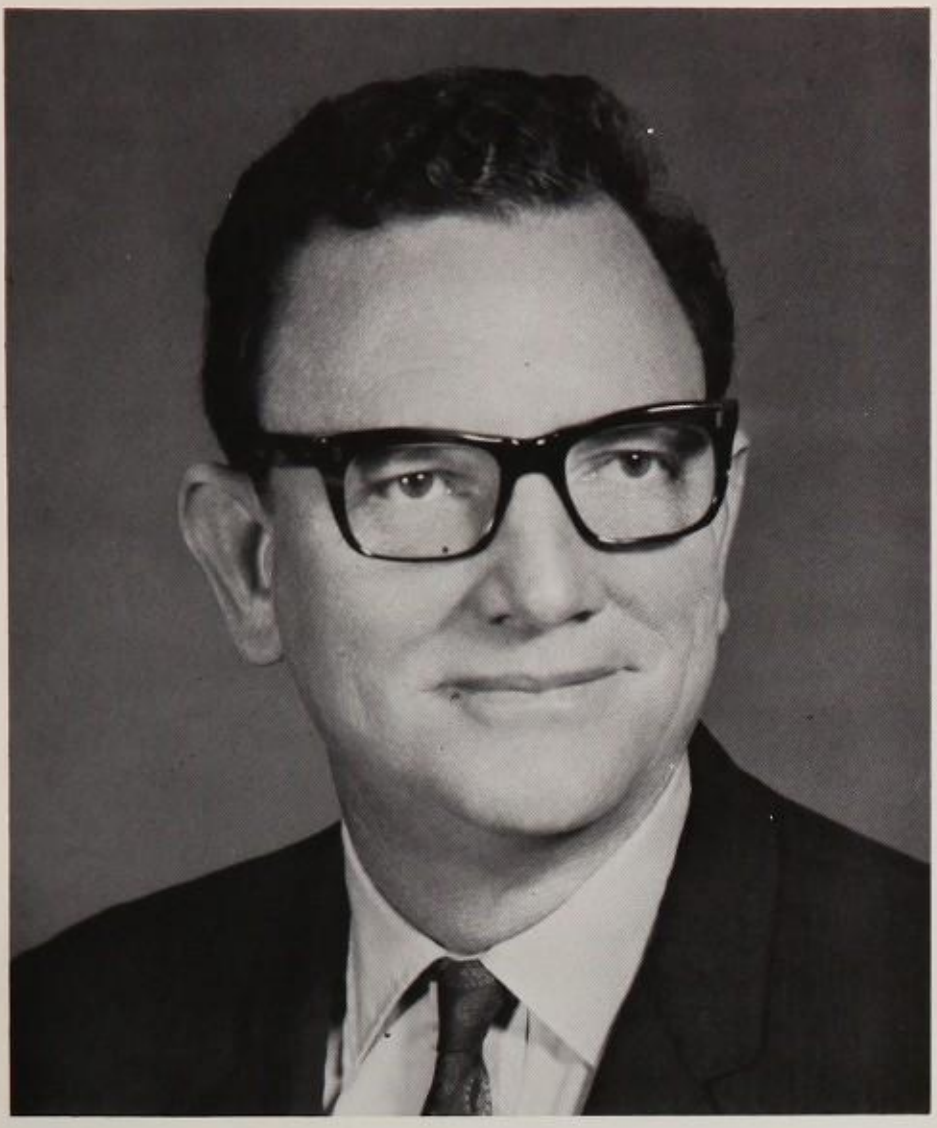
Buttress to the Greatest

Any organized unit involving as great a number of people as Miami Senior High requires the guidance of a truly outstanding leader. Our principal, Mr. Curtis M. Knowles, is more than a figure of authority. In addition to his vast administrative duties, Mr. Knowles takes a genuine interest in the people of Miami High. Despite the burdens of his office, Mr. Knowles is always able to take time to boost the spirit at a pep rally; he is never too busy to meet with his students to hear their grievances. Mr. Knowles is a true Stingaree and an administrative leader whom Miami High is proud and fortunate to have.

Our chief, Mr. Knowles, appears to be whooping up the spirit at the pep rally for the North Miami Pioneer football game. All he needs now is a tomahawk.



Sitting comfortably and poised at his office desk, our principal, Mr. Curtis M. Knowles, maintains an attitude of thoughtfulness as he reviews a proposed change in administrative policy.

Assistant principal for administration, Mr. Randolph Spreen, and vocational education teacher, Mr. Frank Tallarico, are found conferring on the disciplinary problem of a student under the latter's supervision.

Assistants to the Principals

Under the guidance of Principal Curtis Knowles, Miami High's various administrators work through the department heads. Mr. Randolph Spreen, assistant principal for administration, displays an active interest in the discipline of all MHS Stingarees. Mrs. Agnes DuBois, assistant principal for curriculum, coordinates the vast array of course offerings available to Miami High students. As assistant principal for guidance, Miss Annie Leigh Rollins is responsible for the effective functioning of the guidance department. Mr. Michael Coughlan, our assistant principal for vocational curriculum, has as his main concern the maintenance of our vocational program.

Agnes DuBois

Annie Leigh Rollins

Randolph Spreen

Taking time out from his busy schedule, Mr. Michael Coughlan stops to talk with a group of students.

One of Mrs. Dubois' most important duties is to assist teachers in planning the curriculum for their students.

As an assistant principal, Mr. Coughlan constantly finds himself wading through a heavy stack of papers.

Equipped with his rifle, pipe, and daisies, Pa Stingaree (alias Mr. Randy Spreen), appears ready to shoot down the opposition.

Secretaries to the Establishment

Keeping track of nearly five thousand students and teachers requires an enormous amount of paperwork, and the coordination of all aspects of organization in a school of so many people seems an almost insurmountable task. Yet the office staff of Miami Senior High School, divided into two units, the registrar's office and the attendance office, manages to accomplish such varied chores as regulating attendance, determining class ranks, and handling information concerning each student. Through their diligence, the office personnel help keep Miami High running smoothly and efficiently.

Mr. Rafael Figueras helps with the records in the office with student assistance.

Library Staff

Much time and planning, as well as many thousands of dollars, were poured into a program to improve our library, which brought its facilities to the superior level that students and teachers were able to utilize and enjoy this year. A concentrated effort was made to reach all students. The 32,771 books in the library include volumes in English, French, Spanish, and German; and subscriptions to 165 magazines and 15 newspapers enable students to keep up with current events. A special independent study program was launched. The discontinuation of study halls gave students access to the library and the conference room at all times.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Maria Collins, students are led to greater and wider horizons.

The Navigator

As a result of a school-wide survey taken at the end of last year, the guidance department underwent a complete revamping this year. Students were not assigned to any particular counselors and were permitted to select their own.

Counselors were assigned to committees which enabled them to utilize their special skills and interests for the best interest of their students. Time was allotted for special guidance assemblies and for a new group guidance program. These changes helped the guidance department meet the needs of the student body.

The Accent on Analysis

The English department, headed by Mr. Frank Petruzielo, was one of the most unique and modern departments at Miami Senior High School, as well as the one that teaches the most students. English, taught on three levels, each phased, provided students with understanding of their language and enjoyment of its literature, from Beowulf to the Beatles. Honors students participated in independent and group study. Thirty seniors were candidates for advanced placement in English. The department also offered electives in vocabulary, journalism, speech, and drama.

Ich Spreche Deutsch

The foreign language department, headed by Miss Margaret Tourtellot, adds an important dimension to the education of students who participate in its course offerings. The department curriculum includes instruction in four modern languages: Spanish, German, French and English for Spanish-speaking students. One classical language, Latin, was offered. Each of these languages was taught on different levels, and phasing was used to fit the courses to the students' needs and ability. Teachers employed audio materials in addition to normal classroom methods to aid in turning out bilingual and multilingual Miami High School students.

The Sorcerer's Apprentice

The science department, under the leadership of Miss Mary Ellen Lovelace, offers a diverse range of courses. Biology, a compulsory course for sophomores, was phased according to student ability and command of the English language. Electives in the department covered most areas of scientific study: chemistry, marine biology, aviation science, and physics. Gifted students participated in the lab research program, doing independent study in a wide variety of topics ranging from water spout research to oceanography.

An Exponent Is Power

This year, mathematics could have been aptly described by one adjective: "diversified." Under the leadership of Mr. Carter Tyler and Mr. Richard de Aguero, this many-faceted department offers a spectrum of courses keyed to all levels of student interest and ability. Many college preparatory courses, including trigonometry; analytic geometry; and Math 5, a new course whose curriculum includes probability, statistics, linear and vector algebra, boolean algebra, and pre-calculus, were offered. Mathematically oriented seniors participated in advanced placement calculus. The department also offered courses in practical mathematics, such as general math.

Once Again: "ASDF JKL;"

If there is anything that has to do with the business world, the business education department is prepared to teach it, whether it be typing a friendly letter, drafting a contract, or operating complicated business machines. The business department offers courses in business law, business English, business math, sales merchandising, business organization and management, bookkeeping, and consumer economics. The college-bound student is not ignored. For him there are courses in personal typing and personal shorthand. Also coordinated with the department is the cooperative business education program, in which Miami High students have an opportunity to gain on-the-job experience.

Learning to concentrate while typewriters click is good practice for these students, who will be working in busy offices.

A Yellow Dog Contract?

The social studies department helps Miami High students learn to function in society with other people. It endows students with knowledge of the past and the present in order to prepare them for the future. For example, United States government, a compulsory course for seniors, teaches students the history and structure of our government in order to shape them as good citizens. The department also offers many interesting elective courses designed to promote understanding of people: world history, sociology, psychology, and Negro history, new this year.

Fitness Spoken Here

The physical education department underwent a year of improvement and change. Since physical education was no longer required for juniors, students were assigned to classes according to age and ability rather than by grade. Intramural sports were offered for students of both sexes.

For the girls, extensive units in modern dance and gymnastics were added to the curriculum. New football equipment was purchased, and a great deal of time was spent on this sport so that the girls could become better spectators at football games.

The physical education department also coordinated all varsity sports.

The purpose of the vocational education department is to train students in industrial skills. Vocational students, in addition to their regular academic subjects, take courses which help them to become proficient in their selected industrial vocation. Among the programs offered are cosmetology, drafting, electronics, auto-mechanics, and commercial art. After graduation, students are prepared either to attend college or to begin working at the occupation for which they were trained.

Miami High's elective program, if used wisely, can prepare any student to use his time well in the future. The program includes courses in the fields of music, art, shop, home economics, drafting, and drama. The electives offer the student a real opportunity to fit his program of study to his individual needs.

Betcha Can't Eat Just One . . .

Whether it is maintaining the foliage or cleaning the halls, one can be sure the custodians are hard at work keeping Miami High a school that Stingarees can be proud of.

The cafeteria serves vast amounts of breakfasts and lunches daily, a task which requires the services of many women from early in the day to the afternoon. Trying to please the tastes of the students and prepare tempting meals at budget prices in these days of rising prices is a giant task.

Head custodian, Mr. Reynolds, shows off the instrument that keeps us cool on those hot summer days.

Any student who wants a free lunch must try to get by this friendly X-Club mom.

Getting ready for a flock of students rushing into the cafeteria, Mrs. Jean Famiglietti and Mrs. Myrtle Wright prepare some hot lunches with fried chicken, peas, and mashed potatoes.

The human mind seldom stops learning, and no one knows this better than the administration and faculty of Miami High's night school program.

Innumerable courses were offered including high school courses for non-graduates and general self improvement courses. The latter included homemaking, trade extension courses, pre-employment training, plus a variety of courses designed for specific areas of business activity such as real estate, insurance, export-import, and financing a small business.

Since its beginning in 1958, enrollment has increased from 700 to 4,000, and courses offered have increased from 27 to 64.

Dr. Keith Bennett, principal of the night school, works on some papers so that the school will run more smoothly.

These eager adults come to night school after doing a hard day's work.

Pacesetters

They are members of a vital community of ideals within Miami High in a division of distinction, the teachers of excellence.

Is excellence the ability to understand and cope with individual students as individual students?

Is excellence the creator of bonds of knowledge wound in threads of dedication, warmth, and interest between educator and educated?

Is excellence evidenced in commitment to a particular activity as well as to people?

YES, and much more.

Virgo

Virgo was a period of adjustment: sophomores adjusted to school life in a bustling "city" of 4480 bodies; students adjusted to the split shift, some to coming to school before sunrise, others to leaving after sunset. As with all new enterprises, some faced the promises and prospects of 69-70 with reluctance, some with alacrity. But the machinery was set into motion. Our first weeks at school became a time of anticipation; of planning, waiting, watching, and hoping.

The student shift shifts; some come, some go, "Which shift are you?" "I don't know."

Libra

Under the balancing influence of Libra, the scales, Miami High reached its helter-skelter equilibrium. Activities attained, then overcame the extra effort of starting, and moved. Clubs settled down to business, and Miami High became a marketplace where anything from beer mugs to pompons could be purchased. There were pep rallies, sock hops, and stomps to go to; club rushes and an alphabetical array of tests (SAT, PSAT, AT, SCAT) to suffer through. But despite the deluge of things to do and places to go, the unanimous shibboleth on the lips of Stingarees was "football."

Cheerleaders Alina Solomons and Lili Rodriguez are in a state of ecstasy as they watch the clock tick off the final seconds for our first victory over Norland.

National Honor Society President Magaly Barja pours on her sales tech-

Enthusiastic Stingaree football fans applaud and yell wildly as the Stings execute a play for long yardage.

Scorpio

The realization came to us that maybe this wasn't going to be the season. But, surprisingly, we also gained the realization that it didn't really matter: the venerable walls did not crumble, and no one died. The faithful still crowded into stadiums to get rained on and to scream. Victory Week came and shone but faded into succeeding disappointments. Clubs tapped, putting a joyful end to suspense for some and an end to hopes for others. The pledging mania hit Miami High, filling the corridors with singing and discarded bubble gum wrappers.

nique as she sells Peggy Agan an N.H.S. student directory.

The Little Women pledges do not appear to be doing a very good job of humbling themselves before high and mighty members Nora Kenney, Nancy Arnold, and Carol Martin.

Sagittarius

As the football season neared its end, its importance was obscured as the student body, with the Junior Class at the helm, set out poster paints and crepe paper to impress returning alumni. The excitement of Homecoming '69 was enhanced by a parade, pep rally, the Mr. Legs Contest, and by the suspense we were kept in until the election results of Homecoming Queen Patsy Wilson and King Carlos Perez were announced. Then the gaudy festival was over: the blue and gold streamers were torn down. As the holiday season approached, the Drama Department, Thespians, Orchestra, and Chorus presented us with a contemporary Christmas assembly featuring astronauts and moon rockets. Student attention began to center around our winning basketball team, which we flocked to watch.

Sagittarius signals the beginning of the Stings' basketball season. Here, Gaby Vidal drives for a lay-up against the opposition.

It appears as if Mrs. Sylvia Furlong is about to be decorated along with the Christmas tree.

The opposition could only dread to hear themselves being singled out this year as Stingaree basketball fans yelled "you, you, you!" when the opposition fouled our Stingaree cagers.

In the Christmas assembly, three astronauts found Santa Claus in toyland instead of themselves on the moon.

Capricorn

The arrival of our vacation was welcomed by all students and teachers alike. Even though Christmas is a happy occasion, clubs pitched in to help make Christmas happy for the not-so-happy needy. Then, Miami dress shops . . . florists, and hairdressers were swamped as Stingarees prepared for the 1969 HOSTESS formal. Then we were back in school; mid-terms struck, and we all became serious scholars—for a week at least.

Aquarius

The peaceful influence of Aquarius seemed lost as administrators, students, teachers, parents, and politicians got tangled in heated debates. Seniors' government courses were implemented as they witnessed government in action. Tempers grew edgy as teachers wondered where they would be working second semester. The U. S. Supreme Court and District Judge C. Clyde Atkins treated students to a five-day vacation while the predominantly white faculty of Miami High was integrated.

But the moves didn't slow our activities: the nervousness as sophomores attended club rushes. Seniors were stricken by senioritis while they waited for those fateful letters from colleges.

Pisces

Interests scurried, like fish, in all directions. Some of us adjusted to new teachers; all of us had a lesson in human relations. The dizzy fun of club rushes began again, at the expense of sophomores this time; but for seniors, the joyous lunacy was tinged with sorrow as they tried to enjoy their last teas, tapping trips, and pledge classes. Cheerleading tryouts began; and junior and sophomore girls paid the price of aching muscles to pursue a dream of glory. Seniors mitigated the worry of waiting with a whirlwind of ACTIVITIES.

One can only hope that industrious Adis Vila will not be busy typing a term paper during her week long Easter vacation which is just around the corner in late March.

Aries

The word came from colleges to seniors, and we were all able to employ our practice at acceptance that three years at Miami High had given us. Juniors and sophomores got experience at this, too, as new cheerleaders were tapped and new officers selected. For the most part, this became a passive time. Senioritis reached epidemic proportions, even infecting lowerclassmen! In the meantime, some Stingarees feasted for Easter; some for Passover.

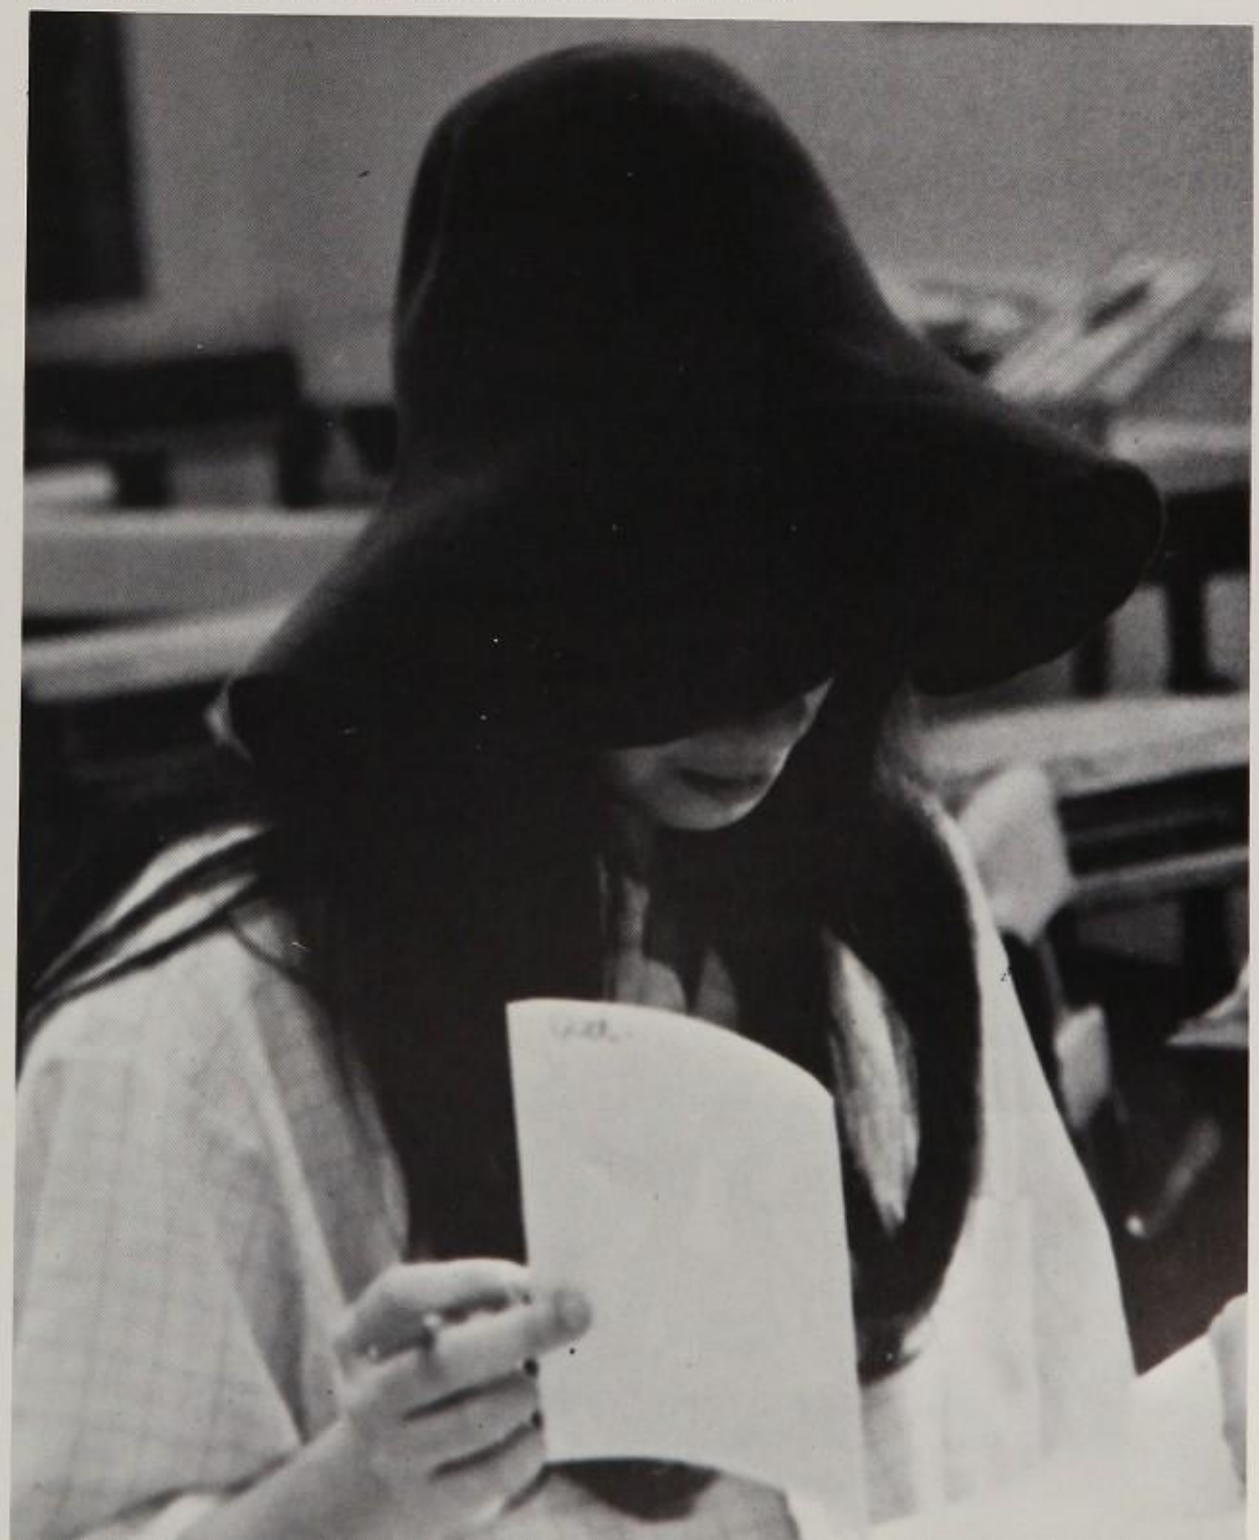
Senioritis struck!

Happiness does not come to all seniors as typified by this girl who finds that she has been rejected from the college of her first choice.



Taurus

Taurus ruled the sky; and a bull-headed determination to have fun—ruled students. No method escaped our notice: formals, banquets, inter-club games . . . As graduation approached, we witnessed and were instrumental in the decline of studying. Nobody worried; teas, tapping, and challenges were over for the year, and the days flew by faster than any of us realized.

These two club sponsors exhibit what can happen under the influence of the increased quantity of senioritis, prevalent during weekdays.

It is finished.

Gemini

Succumbing to the influence of Gemini, the astral twins, seniors experienced a peculiar polarization of emotions. We felt a wary joy at the prospect of promised freedoms and challenges. But we were simultaneously struck by nostalgia as we watched juniors take over and begin to plan for next year; as we suddenly remembered past things and moments we'd somehow forgotten to savor when they were present: football games, pep rallies, lunches at Lum's, teas, tapping, early morning congregations in the parking lot, shiny, slippery halls on rainy days, and the secure sensation we felt when saying goodbye to other seniors in other years when we knew we'd be back. Silly, routine things became special as we realized we were doing them for the last time. Senior parties, the picnic, the prom, and rehearsals made the importance of final exams dwindle. Finally, it had arrived: graduation, the great amputation, as we said goodbye to three years of our lives.

Miami High Football

After the shock of the first losing season in Miami High's long history, the Stingarees came back to school with one thought in mind: to erase the only tarnished spot of M.H.S. football history.

The knowledgeable football fan realizes the importance of what an opening game victory means to the entire football season. At the time of our loss to Beach High, no one realized that this team would go undefeated and rank third in the county. Everyone thought that we had been beaten by the same Beach team that built up their tradition of playing low-caliber high school football; therefore, our pre-season momentum ended abruptly.

After a second game loss by a score of 20-32 to Hialeah High School, the GMAC Northern Division Champs, we were handicapped by a series of crippling injuries to key players, a factor which forced the use of numerous inexperienced players for the rest of the season. The blow of our opening losses and injuries, combined with an inability of our team to perform a well balanced four quarters of football, was the main cause for our second losing season in a row.

Throughout the history of Miami Senior High, our football team has formed the tradition for which we have gained national recognition. Miami High football has now reached a stage in its history that was thought to be impossible. We must now start anew to rebuild into the powerful football team that gave us the reputation of being a winner for many years.

Head Coach J. W. Beck converses with Middle Guard Terry Snowden about an upcoming play.

Offense

The basic goal of the offensive squad is to put points on the scoreboard. To achieve this, there must be a wide variety of plays to render the opposing defense unsure of their abilities at all times during the game. The offensive players must have speed, elusive moves, guts, determination, and organization.

The offensive team this year had potential that would have added to the success of our team, but because of the problems encountered and the bad breaks, our offense fell short of the additional points needed to win. Offensively, there was a lack of balance between the running and passing games. In the beginning of the season the concentration was focused on gaining yardage on the ground; as the season advanced, the concentration of our offense focused more and more on going to the air.

The job of protecting the quarterback is a tough one and a great deal of the time grossly underrated. The offensive line this year was led by Seniors Jim Pace, David Behney, Dennis Valdez, Tom Flingos, and Jose Santiesteban; and Juniors Mike Carter, Jim Calverne, and John DeVries. The line was hindered by the injuries of Flingos and Valdez. Senior Barry Reitz was a back-up lineman.

Our pass receivers who played this year were Jay Bryan, Robert Gonzalez, Johnny Martinez, Jim Parrish, and Larry Hendrix. Also taking on the duties of pass receiving was Senior Halfback Mike Waters, who was moved to flanker toward the end of the season.

In the offensive backfield, Senior Rosendo Caveiro and Juniors Pete Arocha and Rene Areaga led the ground attack. These juniors received game experience which will add to the formation of a promising team for the 1970 season.

Defense

The job of the defense is to stop the opposing offense from advancing down the field. This job requires many complicated formations to stop ground and passing yardage. To play defense, one must have speed, guts, determination, but most of all be able to react quickly.

Basically the defense did a good job of holding our opponents to a minimum. But like the offense, the defense also had problems which seemed inescapable. Opponents had difficulty in gaining yardage on the ground, where our problem seemed to be stopping the aerial attack. However, many times when the defense held, our offense could not score. Had the offense and defense been able to coordinate a more balanced squad, our season's record may have been more reflective of the team's ability.

Leading the defensive line were Joe Fajardo, Miguel San Pedro, Joe Prieto, and David Colvin. The linebackers who played were All-City Pete Poulos, Don Lowe, Lee Hubler, and Richard Fisher. Plagued with injuries, which hurt the defense immensely, were Juan Cruz, Richard Fisher, and Don Lowe. Senior Frank Bermudez, a back-up middle guard; Juniors Hector Perez, middle guard and tackle; and Gasper Otero, defensive end, also saw action during the season.

Anchoring the defensive safety positions were Seniors John Johnson and Ted Todoroff. Both Johnson and Todoroff lined up as juniors last year, and this experience proved helpful in many games this season. Junior safety, Albert Zamora, sustained an injury in the first game of the season. The corners were played alternately by Sam Givens, Gandhi Lora, Rich Orgaz, and Oscar Fonseca. These four players are juniors, and should add to the strength of next year's defense.

Coaches

This year two new faces were added to our coaching staff: Tom Hungerbuhler and Gene Wilson. Hungerbuhler, a graduate of the University of Florida, coached the linebackers and the defensive ends. Wilson coached the defensive line. Returning this year were Head Coach J. W. Beck, Defensive Back Coach Ralph Davis, Offensive Line Coach Andy Donelli, and Offensive Back Coach Joe Mira.

Junior Varsity Football

Under the direction of Coaches Jack Schee, Jim Smith, and newcomer Barry Lischner, the Junior Varsity football team struggled through the season. The purpose of JV football is to strengthen the fundamentals of football in the all-sophomore team. Though the season's record (2-5) was disappointing, we can be encouraged by the fact that these players attained much insight into the basics of football. Coupled with the desire to play, and barring injuries and student transfers, the JV players will offer valuable assistance to the varsity next year by enhancing its ability to win more games.

Miami High Basketball

With the shouts of "you! you! you!" ringing through the gym, and the colorful sight of the Stingaree basketball team entering the floor on a 50-foot long royal blue carpet inscribed with gold block letters "M.H.S.," this year's team went on to finish the season with a 16-5 record which showed marked improvement over last year's team.

This improvement took place because of a better balanced scoring attack and superior hustle. The three top scorers were Bill Capps, Ricky Castro, and Chahriar Alayeto. Capps, although a junior, was a top all-around player. Castro was especially tough on defense and at the base line. Alayeto, even though he didn't start the first few games, came back to be our top hustler on the floor. The pace of the game was quickened this year with Gabriel Vidal controlling the backboards and getting the ball out quickly to Streaking Guards Amado Garcia and Remberto Cibran on the fast breaks.

Other highlights of the year were the long-range shooting of Marcus Rodriguez and the strong playing underneath by Manuel Hoyos. Seeing action also were Jose Nunez, Alfonso Rodriguez, and Conrado Amador.

The overall playing of the team, the first basketball pep rally in Miami High's history, and Interact's and Key's donation of 400 derbies and pom pons helped bring in the greatest paid attendance since 1964.

J.V. Basketball

Before the season started, hopes were running high that this year's J.V. team could equal last year's by being tops in the county. These hopes were crushed when the top player, Remberto Cibran, was moved up to the varsity before the season opened. There were, however, two players who excelled throughout the season: Roger Dominguez (5'10" guard) and Carlos Paz (6'4" center) will definitely prove their value to the varsity squad next year. Other players who added brilliance to the squad were Starters Mario Perez, Ramiro Onate, and Jorge Valadares. Key substitutes were Paul Sands and Rafael Oliva.

"Considering the damaging loss of Cibran and the over-all inexperience of our squad, I think we had a very respectable season," stated Coach Bob Kaufman. "We always seemed to commit mental mistakes at crucial times which kept us from having a really good win-loss record."

Soccer

Miami Senior High School can claim to be champions once again. Even though this was their first year in existence, the soccer team won three trophies for M.H.S., including capturing the South Florida High School Soccer League championship. Miami High was the first team to defeat Coral Park High School, the reigning state champions for two consecutive years.

In reality, soccer is not considered a sport at Miami High, but is organized as a school club. The club members had to raise money on their own time to finance the boys' uniforms and other team expenses. This did not hinder these determined athletes, as they showed their skills by outplaying every team on their schedule.

Mr. Diego Garcia is the chief sponsor and organizer of the Soccer Club. He is assisted by Mr. Glenn O'Hearn, who has done much for the organization of soccer on the state level, and Mr. Armando Garrido. Technical coaches Merv Oaten and Ron Heenan take time from their own jobs to aid these inspiring soccer players. Miami High is fortunate to have two such experienced men in soccer, Mr. Oaten, chairman, and Mr. Heenan, treasurer of the Florida Soccer Coaches Association.

Swimming

The theme adopted by the 1969-1970 Stingaree swim team was improvement—and the results: success.

The boys' team has developed some outstanding swimmers and can now compete with nearly any team in Dade County. Many swimmers swam in the county and district swim meets with strong results. Although some valuable senior swimmers will be lost to graduation, next year's squad promises to be very strong.

The girls began the year with three lettermen returning from a team of four. By mid-season, the team consisted of nine girls, all willing to work hard. This young team was fortunate to have the leadership of two outstanding seniors, who leave behind them a younger group to lead our future teams to even greater achievements.

Golf

Golf is a game played by more people than any other outdoor sport. It is a game emphasizing skill rather than strength. Every afternoon from September to April, Miami High's golf team, under the direction of Coach Steve Komarc, practiced to perfect their skills in this sport.

The team consisted of Seniors Gene Rucker, Bruce Marmar, Howard Grodensky, Juniors Neil Polin, William Stevens, Sophomores Drew Sekan, George Saab, and Louis Birencwaig. Senior Gene Rucker, one of the best golfers in the state, participated in the district tournament in early April, and later that month made his way to Winter Haven to participate in the state tournament.

Tennis

Tennis is a sport requiring quick reflexes, control of coordination, as well as coordination of arm and leg movements. Though there is not much glory in joining the tennis team, the team did not fail in producing their traditional good record. This year's team, under the direction of Coach Jonah Davies, consisted of Rodolfo Valladares, Jorge Cano, Evan Chern, Gary Farr, Terry Lee Kelly, Mario Rodriguez, and Mark Tucker.

Baseball is one of the most popular internationally played sports. To be a good baseball player, an athlete must be completely well rounded. He must have strength, timing, complete body control, and great judgment on the field and at bat. Coaches Ralph Davis and Joe Mira worked to make our team live up to these standards.

Man for man, this was the best team Miami High has had in some time. We had great depth in all positions. Although we did not have any great power hitters, three boys stood out at the plate as well as on the field. They were Shortstop Julio Hernandez, Catcher Rosendo Caveiro, and Right-fielder Carlos Perez. Two pitchers who alternated on the mound were Juniors Jose Davilla and Chi Chi Zamora. Another fine pitcher who was, however, out for the season with an injury was Junior Dan Disdiar. Other standouts were Junior Third Baseman Roberto Perez, Junior First Baseman Humberto Martinez, and Senior Center Fielder Amado Garcia. One factor which helped our team this year was that many experienced players returned from last year. With only three starting seniors, next year's squad should have a solid backbone of experienced players to build from.

Track

Running is probably the oldest form of athletic competition. To be a good runner, one must have speed, but speed alone does not qualify one for the Miami High track team. Along with speed, one must have coordination, agility, endurance, and most of all, dedication. This year's team, under the direction of Coaches Jim Smith and Tom Hungherbuhler, has shown itself to contain such qualities. Standouts on the squad this year were Stu Loveland on the hurdles; Mike Waters and Gil Azcano, short distance sprints; Larry Hendrix, pole vault and long jump; and Steve MacClure and Tom Esquijarosa, long distance. Esquijarosa was especially successful as he broke the M.H.S. school record in the mile run, and then broke his own record three more times.

Bowling

This year, under the direction of Mrs. Linda Linder, the Miami High boys' bowling team won their second consecutive divisional championship and finished second in the county. The team was led by all-city captain Flip Schemer. Other outstanding performances were added by Seniors Eddie Rossi and Steve Singer. Other members of the team were Ken Chin, Richard Nichols, Ricky Bryan, Mitch Lubitz, Albert Sturm, Eddie Shafer, and Ignacio Ballestas.

The girls' team, also under Mrs. Linder, did not finish with as good a season as the boys'; however, next year's season holds much more promise. The girl bowlers this year were Ana Pando, captain; Gail Clark, Terri Wood, Elizabeth Cabanas, Susan Jabo, Betty Vaughn, Rita Foster, Kathy Lawter, and Carleen Demshok.

Gymnastics

Gymnastics is a sport requiring quickness, strength, and most of all, excellent control of coordination. This year's team consisted of eight boys. These boys, under the direction of Coach Jack Schee, have shown themselves to have the form and gracefulness needed to provide a smooth performance. This year's gymnasts were Steve Kunkel, Chris Robertson, Sam Givens, George Lukaszewicz, Raul Luzarraga, Joe Miranda, Mike Carter, and John Basalyga.

Boys' Volleyball

Although volleyball isn't a varsity sport, it is still much a part of Miami High sports. Under the direction of Coach Robert Cooke, the sophomore, junior and senior teams all won the county championship. This is the second year in a row that these teams can claim such an outstanding record.

Girls' Volleyball and Basketball

The girls' volleyball and basketball teams are the only sports intermural teams girls are able to join. This year's basketball squad, under the direction of Coach Doris Holt, was runner-up in the county tournament. The volleyball squad was coached by Shirley Hekimian.

"Fifi",
I hope that you have as many wonderful memories as I do from Miami Hug
Next year is the beginning of a new and long and lasting experience. I hope you find what you want out of life, because you truly deserve the best.
Love,

Whenever a job is performed, motivation is one of the most significant factors. It is well known that most people are motivated by a desire for glory, that "courage needs witnesses." But what about the people who work ceaselessly yet receive little or no recognition? These are the people with sincere motivation. Miami High is fortunate to have such people, and the Miahi '70 staff is proud to honor them.

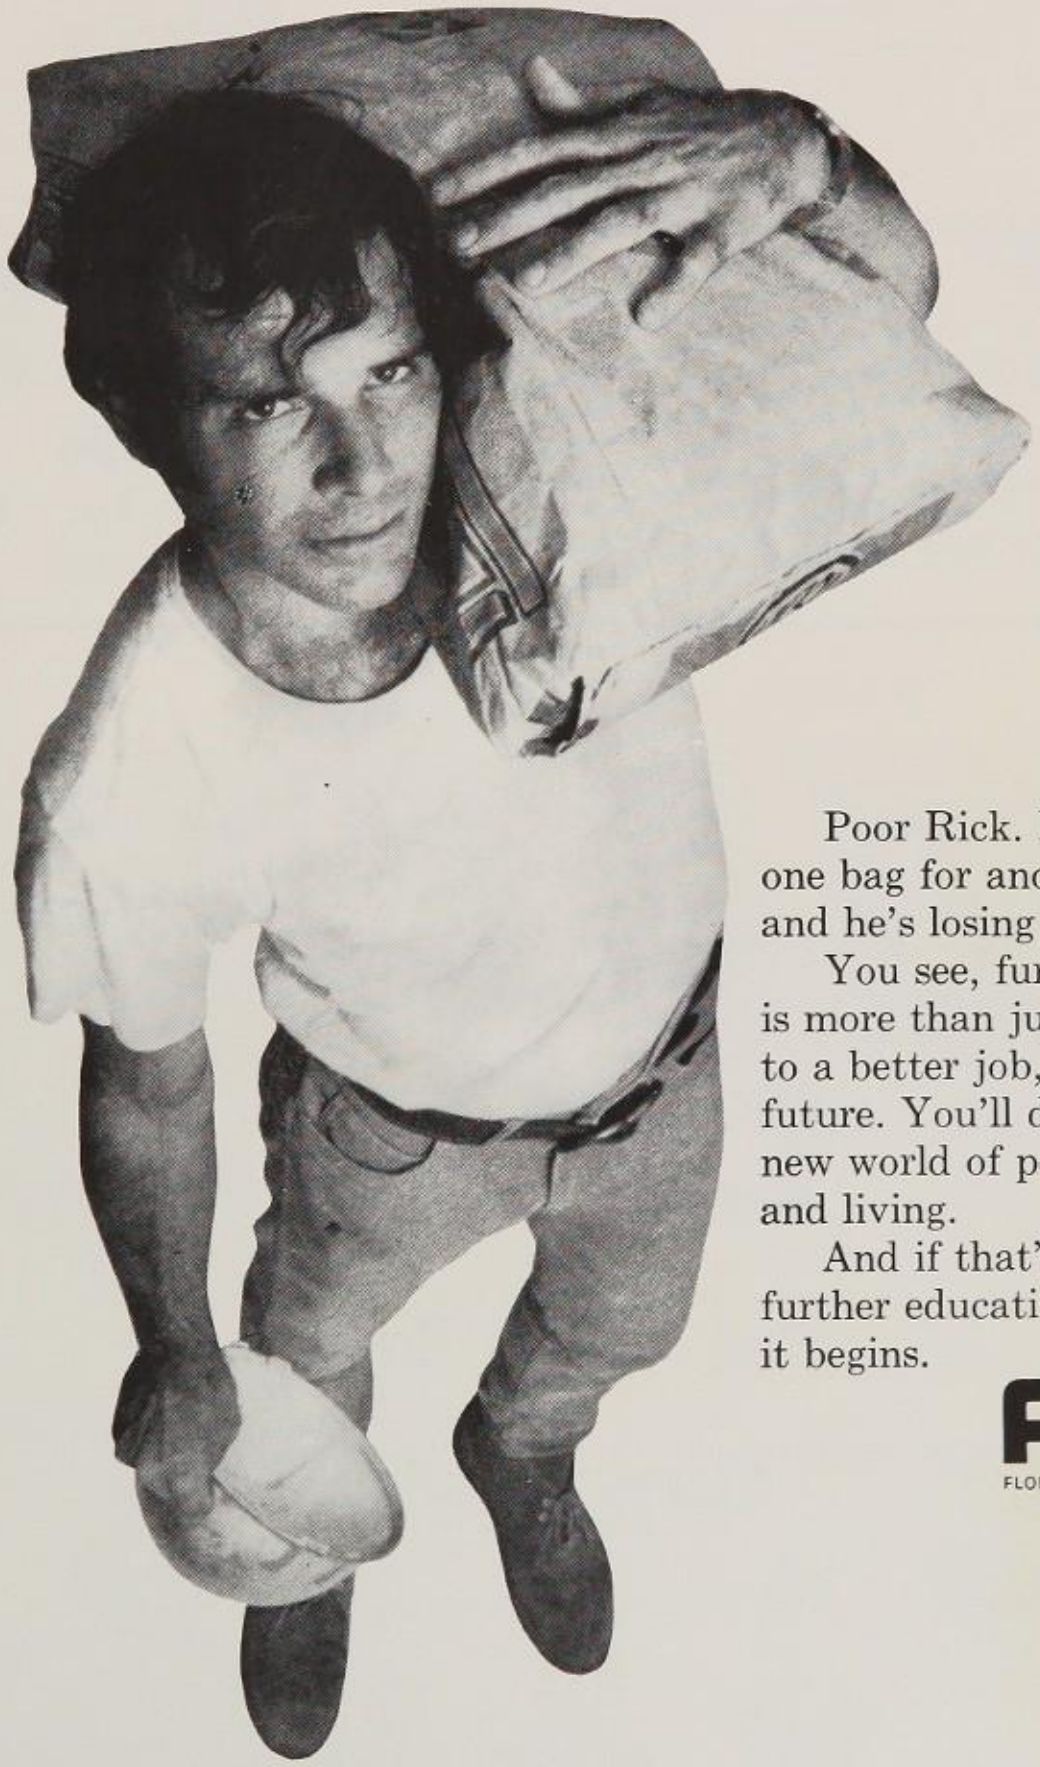
More school?
Man, that's not my bag!



Poor Rick. He's traded one bag for another . . . and he's losing out.

You see, further education is more than just the key to a better job, and a successful future. You'll discover a whole new world of people, ideas, and living.

And if that's your bag, further education is where it begins.
